About DRS

Nominet established the DRS in 2001 to offer an efficient, transparent method of resolving disputes relating to .UK domain names. The DRS seeks to settle disputes through mediation and, where this is not possible, through an independent Expert decision.

Noteworthy cases in 2015

Classic examples of typo-squatting where there were concerns about the potential use of the domains for fraudulent activity. Domain transferred.

bankofscoltland.co.uk & hallifaxbnk.co.uk

Chosen by the Registrant because of the “pulling power” of the trademark to help market its fancy dress costumes. Domain transferred.

starwars.co.uk

A case where the Complainant pursued the dispute in frustration at the Respondent’s unwillingness to sell the domain for a price it was willing to pay. Domain not transferred.

mango.co.uk

Confusion was caused by an official-looking website offering television licences for an increased fee, which in some cases was not passed on to the Complainant. Domain transferred.

televisionlicensing.co.uk

About Nominet

Nominet is an internet company delivering public benefit, with a team of 150 people based in Oxford and London, and 2,800 members. Nominet runs one of the world’s largest country code registries, managing and running over 10.7m domain names that end in .uk. Nominet also runs the Welsh Top Level Domains (.wales and .cymru), and provides registry services to a number of other branded and generic Top Level Domains, including .bbc. Over 3 million businesses, and millions more consumers, rely on its domain registry services.

With the proceeds of its successful registry business, Nominet set up and supports the Nominet Trust, a charitable foundation that funds “tech for good” projects.
